THE FUTURE OF THE PIANO

About us

It's been 10 years now since Kawai opened its branch in Mongolia. Within the period, we built a professional concert hall with 100 seats to support Mongolian children and youth to get educated in classical music and arts. Regarding the purpose, we also invited our teachers and musicians to help our teachers of music to practice and enhance their professional skills as well as improve the quality of education in music. In further, we aim to improve learning materials in music such as workbooks, textbooks, and notebooks.

A Hundred Years in the Music of World

Welcome to Ulaanbaatar, the capital city of Mongolia and the gateway to one of the most diverse regions in East Asia.

Ulaanbaatar is a vibrant city with more than one million residents. The city reflects a condensed and sometimes amusing juxtaposition of nomadic traditions and modern society, perhaps best summarized by its skyline dotted with both gers (felt tents) and towering skyscrapers.

Even though Ulaanbaatar was founded only 400 years ago, it holds ancient government history going back two millennia and preserves the historical records of Mongolia. For that reason, the capital is the only place where you can taste an air that uniquely mingles the nation's past and present.

The monument of the Great Chinggis Khaan, and the State Ceremony Palace located in the capital's central square are clear examples.

Priceless ancient exhibits including the Nine White Banners, the Mongolian statehood symbols, the ancient Royal Seals, and the Mongolian Gerege, the tablet of authority issued by Chinggis Khaan to his envoys.

Moreover, the Chinggis Khaan Equestrian Statue and the Thirteenth Century National Theme Park, Terelj National Park, and Hustai National Park are the must-see attractions for everyone who interested in a short trip around the Ulaanbaatar city. In short, there is something for everyone, and always a sight to behold in Ulaanbaatar.
